

Addiction's Raw Dehydrated Food has the ultimate blend - the nutrition of raw food and the convenience of dry food; you will be giving your dog the finest!

Although the price of Raw Dehydrated Food may seem more costly on a weight basis, the energy and nutrients are denser than what is found in canned food and dry kibble. Therefore, the daily cost of feeding your dog is reasonable.

Attached is a table showing the comparison between the different categories of pet food.
